

Christina D. Williams, Ph.D.

As a principal and co-founder of the ELI Group, Christina D. Williams, Ph.D. helps senior executives develop the leadership skills and qualities to put them on the path to success within their organizations. With her global perspective in a wide variety of industries, Dr. Williams is a recognized expert in organizational effectiveness and a thought leader for major media including The Wall Street Journal, Harvard Management Update and MSN Marketing Intelligence.

With an innate ability to build trust with the clients she serves, Dr. Williams has a proven track-record with counseling senior executives to success in accelerating business strategies through executive coaching, succession planning, senior team development, and organizational change management.

Prior to co-founding the ELI Group, she was Managing Director for RHR International and worked extensively in the areas of leadership assessment, selection and development. Dr. Williams has also worked as a corporate psychologist for Kaiser Permanente and served on the faculty of San Francisco State University teaching courses in Industrial/Organizational Psychology and Leadership Selection & Assessment.

Dr. Williams received her Bachelor's degree from the University of Texas at Arlington. She received her Master's degree and Ph.D. in Industrial/Organizational Psychology from the University of California at Berkeley. She is a member of the American Psychological Association and the Society for Industrial and Organizational Psychology.

cwilliams@theELIgroup.com
214-432-2594